

Sprint 2 Review
HoneyDo
Project Team 1
5/19/17

Actions to stop doing:

Members need to stop being uncommitted to Friday meetings. Meetings are much more valuable when all members are present. Members should also stop creating multitudes of branches. It makes the project fragmented and and confusing.

Actions to start doing:

Members need to start being more consistent coming to sprint meetings. Members should all start communicating more on the chat. Even small updates and questions keep everyone on the same page and on track. We need to improve on making helpful comments so that the members are not confused and will help our individual work to be more efficient. Members should also try to be more active trying to create a clean code. This will help in debugging and make us better programmers.

Actions to keep doing:

This sprint we have been good at being proactive and helping each other on different parts of the project. We have been communicating well with each other and creating visual diagrams to keep us on the same page. Collaborating with each other while integrating the different parts of the project have been a key component to the success of this sprint. While some similarly-named variables in our code have been fixed, we need to continue working on being more on the same page when creating new variables and names so that we are not confused.
