Working Prototype Known Problems Report
Honey Do
6/2/17

Functionality

- Events may take a long time to appear in buckets after drag and drop
- Maybe have an error message if user wants to create a todo list with a name of todo list already taken. User might be confused with no error message.
- User presses "Enter" when adding an item to a todo-list but if they press "Enter" when editing the item's name, nothing will happen (may be confusing)
- When user edits the name of an item in the todolist and drags it into the bucket then it has the original name
- When using the dropdown editor, cannot click outside of editor to close it
- If user drags an item to the middle of two todolists, the todo will guess which one to go into, not consistent
- Slow/unresponsive when first logging in (refreshing the page or dragging item fixes this)

Display

- Display may change unexpectedly on zoom or window resizing
- Depending on window size objects may appear on different lines/where they should not be
- Progress bar percent done does not show in the right place on mouseover depending on window size
- If shrink window past a certain size, even if on computer, then mobile device error page displays
- If user inputs a really long word as the todolist name then it runs off the todolist
- If user inputs a really long todolist name then it may shift the other todolists
- If user inputs a really long todolist name then the drop-down editor is not properly aligned